Final Call for Speaker Proposals for PA NEN's 2015 Annual Conference

While we may be a long way off, the planning committee has been hard at work. We have already started the process of soliciting some proposed workshop topics/speakers designed to inspire and educate you based off of the feedback we received from your conference evaluations.

Of the workshop proposals that we have received, there is one expert that we have yet to hear from: You.

To submit a workshop topic, visit the PA NEN website and complete the workshop call for presentations.
